MARKET COMMENTARY

Markets surged in January, with the S&P/ASX Small Ordinaries delivering a strong 4.59% return, driven largely by Materials, which contributed nearly half of the month's gains. Energy (+7.62%) and Healthcare (+6.96%) were among the strongest-performing sectors, while Information Technology (-0.53%) was the weakest and only sector to post a negative return. December NAB Business Conditions improved to +6 from +3 in November, while the labour market remained resilient, with employment rising by 56,300—well ahead of expectations. Headline inflation fell to its lowest level since early 2021, with the trimmed mean reaching a three-year low. This drove increased speculation of interest rate cuts, leading to a decline in the Australian dollar.

PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

The portfolio's largest overweight positions include Pacific Current Group Ltd, EQT Holdings Ltd and Universal Store Holdings Ltd. Conversely, the portfolio's largest underweight positions include Life360 Inc, De Grey Mining Ltd and Perseus Mining Limited, all of which are not held in the portfolio.

Just like much of the past year, Gold Road Resources continued to contribute to relative performance (21.0%) as the price of gold continued its historical rally. Gold Road Resources also updated the market in January providing guidance for the next three years which surprised with higher than expected costs. Despite the higher than expected costs, Northern Stars favourable bid for De Grey which Gold Road owns a substantial stake and the potential for capital management to shareholders drove the stock to the all time high it's at today.

Liberty Financial Group contributed to performance over January (+19.9%) despite a lack of stock specific news. Liberty Financial Group remains an attractively priced financials exposure in a market where the major banks are at historical peak valuations which could be deemed unsustainable. Although near term loan growth is likely to be pressured by increased non-bank competition, the potential for improved funding margins present an opportunity and rate cuts would also be a net positive for the company.

The overweight to Myer detracted from portfolio performance (-35.1%) during January as the company released a mid-month trading update which highlighted operating cost pressure and issues at the new distribution centre. Despite the noise, the company completed its combination with Premier's Apparel Brands Just Jeans, Jay Jays, Portmans, Dotti and Jacqui E. The combination has created a leading omni-channel retail platform that brings enhanced scale and significant operating leverage benefits. Myer will also benefit from the expected addition of Retail Stalwart Solomon Lew's potential addition to the board.

Webjet Group Limited detracted from portfolio performance over the month of January (-12.6%) despite the lack of stock specific news. Domestic travel conditions in Australia remain tough although increased international flights into the country providing downward price pressure and aiding volumes remain an attractive growth opportunity for the business. Webjet remains an attractively priced way to play a rebound in travel and has a strong balance sheet with the potential for significant capital management.

OUTLOOK

After an initial embrace of Trumponomics, market focus is shifting to the challenges of execution and the risk of inflation returning in 2025. The new administration must navigate deregulation, tax relief, and spending cuts while managing the budget deficit—an ambitious mix that bond markets will closely scrutinize. U.S. equities remain exuberant, with valuations echoing the Dotcom peak in 2000 and the post-COVID surge in 2021. While some Australian sectors appear stretched, overall valuations are more measured, especially in resources, which trade near multi-year lows. China remains the key uncertainty as its economy flirts with deflation. The question is whether authorities can deliver sustained stimulus, akin to QE3 in 2012, to restore confidence and support growth—an outcome with broad implications for global markets.
